"I was transitioning into a new sales leadership role and focused on refining my presence as a polished, external-facing leader — someone who could win new business and represent my company as a thought leader... I've exceeded those goals."

Megan B
VP, BIOTECH

"One-on-one tailored feedback was key, having a coach really forced me to take a moment and take in my success. I wasn't expecting that it would have made such an impact on me so far."

Gina M
CEO, MANUFACTURING

"[My coach] helped me navigate challenges with my peer group of men. [In coaching], I learned how to market myself and gain influence beyond getting 360-degree feedback from the C-Suite."

Brandy J
VP, MANUFACTURING

"Every session, I feel like I am operating two levels above my current performance. My coach offers guidance that completely changes the game."

Frequently Asked Questions

What makes Coaching at Chief different from other coaching programs?

Chief Coaching is designed for senior leaders by senior leaders. Our coaches are ICF-certified with 10+ years of experience and many have held C-Suite roles themselves. Each member is hand-matched through chemistry sessions to ensure the right fit, and every partnership is confidential, intentional, and focused on real, measurable impact.

What results can I expect?

Results vary depending on your goals, but leaders typically experience increased clarity in decision-making, improved team performance, strengthened leadership presence, and measurable career growth. Chief cannot guarantee promotions, placements, business success, or external recognition, and it doesn't act as a recruiter. Our coaches focus on guidance, strategy, and skill-building to help you achieve measurable growth on your terms.

What are Coaching Accelerators?

Coaching Accelerators are add-on coaching packages to your Chief membership, available in 4, 8, or 12 sessions.

What topics can I explore in Coaching or with Coaching Accelerators?

Coaching at Chief is entirely centered around your professional goals, whether you're navigating a new role, launching a business, building your personal brand, leveling up as a leader, or preparing for board service. You can explore topics like clarifying your next career move, refining your pitch or strategy, strengthening executive presence, building confidence for high-stakes conversations, and developing a board-readiness roadmap.

As my career goals evolve, can I switch between Core and Coaching?

Yes, your Chief experience is designed to evolve alongside your career goals. Every year, upon membership renewal, you will have the opportunity to switch between Core and Coaching.
